The government is cracking down on medical billing practices. Learn how to protect yourself. Our panel will deconstruct real, unsealed False Claims Act cases, and use them to explain:

- What is the FCA
- What are the penalties and consequences
- What are the types of FCA subpoenas
- What are the basic elements of a violation
- How to handle an FCA allegation
- What discretion do prosecutors wield

Moderated by Brian Bank, a partner in Rivkin Radler’s Compliance, Investigations & White Collar Practice Group, the panel will feature a former Chief of Health Care Fraud Prosecutions in the Eastern District U.S. Attorney’s Office; an experienced healthcare compliance lawyer and litigator; a VP of Northwell Health’s Office of Legal Affairs; and the head of BDO’s Healthcare Advisory practice. (Brief bios are included on page 2 of this invitation.)

Paul Kaufman

Paul Kaufman joined Northwell Health in 2014 as Vice President in the Office of Legal Affairs where he primarily works on regulatory-related matters. Previously, Paul served for over 10 years as the Chief of Civil Health Care Fraud for the U.S. Attorney's Office for the Eastern District of New York, where he worked closely with federal and state law enforcement personnel to develop, investigate and resolve health care fraud cases on behalf of the United States and its agencies.

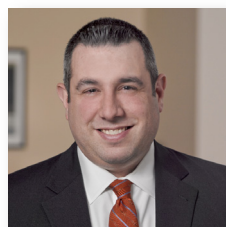

Patrick Pilch

Patrick Pilch leads BDO's Healthcare Advisory practice and is a Co-Founder and Co-Leader of the BDO Center for Healthcare Excellence & Innovation. He has more than 30 years of healthcare, banking, financial services, operational management and restructuring experience. He delivers transformative services that help healthcare, pharma, life science and managed care organizations comprehensively redefine operations and processes to align with patient-centric demands, new consumers and entrants and value-based payment models.
